SOFT SKILLS

Soft skills play a crucial role in a student's academic journey and future professional success. Beyond academic achievements, these interpersonal skills contribute to personal development, effective collaboration, and overall well-rounded individuals. The list of soft skills for students to succeed in life includes communication, emotional intelligence, time management, creativity, problem solving, interpersonal skills, public speaking, adaptability, teamwork, flexibility, and a willingness to learn. Through training and placement, seasoned professionals direct these soft skills programmes.

LIFE SKILLS

Life skills are essential abilities that enable students to navigate the challenges of daily life, foster personal development, and prepare for future success. These skills go beyond academic knowledge and contribute to overall well-being and resilience. It is advantageous to acquire fresh perspectives and problem-solving techniques as well as self-assurance in verbal and group collaboration and cooperation as life skills. Our institution's training and placement cell inspires life skills to encourage learners to take on challenges.
